VOTE ON CONGRESSMEN

OFFICIAL PLURALITIES IN THIR-TEEN INDIANA DISTRICTS.

Judge Crumpacker, of the Tenth, Led with 5,138, and Mr. Overstreet, with 4,888, Second.

All the returns on State officers and Congressmen are now in the office of the Secretary of State, except those from Benton and DeKalb counties, and by wiring for the vote in these two countles last night the Journal is able this morning to present the full congressional vote of the State. It will be noted that the aggregate majorities of the successful Republican candidates. erats, amount to 19,479, a figure within a couple of hundred of McKinley's plurality in the State. Judge Crumpacker, of the Tenth district, has the banner majority of the State, with 5,138 to the good, and Mr. Overstreet, of the Seventh district, is second with 4,888. The highest Democratic figure is that of Zenor, of the Third district, who has a plurality of 1,714. There was $31.25 to every purchaser who fusion between the silver Democrats and Populists in all but two of the districts. and it was in one of these nonfusion districts that the Democrats pulled through one of the four men they elected. Fulton County Proclamation.

Governor Matthews yesterday set at rest the question of whether or not there would be legal proceedings in the case of the tie vote for Representative in Fulton county by issuing a proclamation ordering a special election, to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 24, as predicted in yesterday's Journal. He received from the clerk of the county a certifiate that both Patterson and Green had received the highest and an equal number of votes and upon this showing the proclamation was issued.

For Clerk of the House. Will G. Beach is not a candidate for Tim Griffin's job, but is a candidate for principel clerk of the House of Representatives, Captain Tarleton is an aspirant for the same position.

Political Notes. Chairman Gowdy has returned to Rush-General Jasper Packard, of New Albany, s the latest aspirant for the speakership

A petition was yesterday put in circula-tion among the soldiers of Wayne county who were members of the Eighty-fourth Regiment, asking that Governor-elect Mount appoint B. A. Richardson, of In-dianapolis, Adjutant-general of the State.

The marriage of Miss Ella Florence Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Jones, and Mr. Everett M. Fox, took place last evening at the family residence, on North Pennsylvania street. Only the families and a few of the most intimate friends were present. The ceremony was per-formed by Rev. C. N. Sims, of Meridianstreet Church. An orchestra played the wedding march and "O Promise Me" as the The only attendants were the two little nieces of the bride, Misses Grace and Mabel Koehler, who were dressed in white or-gandie; the former carried flowers and the latter the ring. The bride's gown was of who led the party to disaster should at least wait until they are asked to reform Valenciennes lace, made walking length. party lines and declare party policies. Their effrontery is equaled only by that of Mr. Bryan, John R. Brunt, Professor Ridpata chrysanthemums and the second parlor with white, while the dining room was in pink. The guests were all seated at one long table, with a bowl of pink chrysanthemums in the center and a spray of the flowers tied with pink ribbons at each plate. The table was lighted with pink candies. Mr. and Mrs. Fox have gone at VARNEY-LYON.

A wedding which was of much imporance, on account of the social position of both families, took place last evening at St. Paul's Church, before a large and elegant company of invited guests. The bride was Miss Elizabeth Philiszana Lyon, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Inlocs Lyon, and Mr. Theodore Varney, youngest son of Major and Mrs. A. L. Varney, of the United States Arsenal. Previous to the arrival of the wedding party the ushers, Mr. Arthur Silas Rogers, of Salem, Mr. Wm. B. Poland, Mr. Garrard Comly, Mr. John Comegys Lyon, a brother of the bride, and Mr. Edward E. Gates, seated the guests, the space for the family and nearest friends being divided from the other pews by white satin ribbons. Mr. Wm. P. Kappes was at the organ and played a varied programme. At 8:30, the hour announced for the ceremony, the choir boys, led by Mr. Carl Hoenig, entered from the vestry and went directly to the choir stalls, singing a wedding hymn. On the completion of the ong they sang the wedding march from 'Lohengrin," and the bridal party entered from the front of the church. The ushers came first, and after them the maid of honor, Miss Augusta Lyon, only sister of the bride, and then the bride and her father. On arrival at the foot of the steps to the charsel the bride was met by the groom and his best man, Mr. Gordon Varney, his brother. They proceeded to the altar, where the ceremony of the Episcopal Church was read by Rev. G. A. Carstensen, rector of the church. The bride wore a rich gown of ivory white satin, made en train, and with the corsage high, and she wore her mother's wedding veil of Bruxelles net and her bridal wreath of grange blossoms. The maid of honor wore a gown of white corded silk, with a corsage of white flowered gren-adine, and carried a large bouquet of violets. As the ceremony was pronounced the Cavallera Rusticana Intermezzo was played. The church was handsomely decorated with palms and great white chrysanthemums. Following the benediction, the choir preceded the bridal party to the door singing, "Breathe Soft, Breathe Low." The wedding party and family, with a very few friends, went to the family residence, No. 349 College avenue, where a buffet supper was served. The house decoration was of pink roses and ferns gracefully arranged. Mr. and Mrs. Varney left last evening for a short trip, and they will be absent about two weeks. On their return they will occupy the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lyon, No. 349 College avenue, the family leaving next week for Baltimore to reside. The reception days will be Dec. 23 and 30, after 4 o'clock. The only guests from out of town were Mrs. A. B. Ashby, of Greencastle, and Mr. Grant Ridgeway, of Chicago.

M'MICHAEL-HARRISON. A MYSTERIOUS NOTE.

Mrs. Smythe's Family.

As a Result Two Policemen Protected

Shortly after 10 o'clock last night while Mrs. Smythe, a widow living at No. 294 North Pennsylvania street, was closing up the house preparatory to retiring she was surprised to see a note sticking under the front door. She picked it up and found it to be a sheet of foolscap paper written with a pencil in a large, scrawling hand but written so unevenly and so faintly that the writing was almost illegible. It was finally deciphered, and read:

"You have said it. Be on your guard tonight. There is a danger menacing you What it is I will not say. Keep watch be tween 12 and 2 o'clock and frustrate his plans. It comes from the north in the shape of a dark figure in disguise. Be on alert. You will be near danger yourself. I have said all. I have done. Yours in time

There was no signature to the note, neither was there an introductory address or date. Mrs. Smythe was naturally much startled and called her sister, Mrs. Livingsten, who is also a widow, living with her and showed her the note. Both ladies were very much frightened. The police station was notified and two officers went to the house. Mrs. Smythe told the officers that she had no idea of who had written the note, and furthermore had no enemies that she knew of. Her grown son and daughter live with her. The son was inclined to treat the matter as a joke and endeavored to quiet his mother. One of the officers asked Mrs. Smythe if she had ever received spirit communications through a medium. After some hesitation she acknowledged that she had and seemed inclined to think that the note might have its origin from that source. The ladies were so thoroughly frightened that they did not retire until long after midnight, momentarily expecting the forewarned figure in black to appear. The note was put under the door between 9:30 and 10 o'clock, because Mrs. Smythe was in the hallway previous to that time and did not see it. The police kept watch on the house the entire night, but there was no molesta-
